

wintranslation is an award-winning translation services company based in Ottawa, Ontario, providing culturally appropriate translation and localization services to leading North American companies. More information can be found at wintranslation.com.

Job description:

wintranslation is looking for people fluent in Navajo capable of translating documents on different subjects. The salary is negotiable; usually translators already have a rate in mind depending on if they want to be paid by the hour or by word count. The job is flexible, by contract and can be done from home. We are compiling a list of resumes of potential translators so we can contact them when needed.

Application procedure:

Please send your resume and cover letter to Luisa Juhnke at info@wintranslation.com. Please indicate your translation experiences if you have any.